Dear Mr. Ogden:

Excuse this delayed notification, but I am going to make every effort to attend the Oriental Society's Annual Meeting at Princeton. I will be with Mr. Reilly at the Nassau Club so am all fixed up.

Very truly yours,

HW/E

Dear Dr. Ogden:

Do you know anybody in Columbia or elsewhere, preferably a Singhalese, who could help me work out some Tamil and some other weird alphabets found on some coins from Ceylon. Also on these pieces are peculiar designs. Possibly someone conversant with Singhalese art might be able to help me out. The person would be well reimbursed. I have tried the International House but there is nobody there at present who can help me. Possibly if you do not know of anyone you might be able to put me on the track of someone or give me a clue where to look.

Very truly yours,

My dear Mr. Wood:

At the meeting of the Oriental Club last Tuesday Dr. Elgas (who is as it were chaplain-in-ordinary to the members) told us that you were convalescing from an operation for stomach trouble - the news was a surprise to me, although I had heard you say a month before that you were on a diet. I should have liked to go over and call upon you this afternoon, but had to spend my time reading proof of the abstracts of the papers for the AOS meeting, the preparations for which engross me at this season. I am writing this note to let you know how much we all regret your illness and the hard days you have had to pass in the hospital; I trust it is not too rash to hope that you may be with us again in May 2nd.

With best wishes, I am

Sincerely yours
Charles J. Ogden

Dear Mr. Wood:

The Oriental Club of the City of New York, which was organized in 1896, will hold its 300th meeting on Tuesday, January 2, 1934, and plans have been made to observe the occasion by a subscription dinner (informal, price $1.25) at the Columbia Faculty House, West 117th Street and Morningside Drive, at 6:30 p.m. on that day, to be followed by a brief program commemorating the Club's career.

It is hoped to gather together as many as possible of those who are now on the roll of members or who have belonged to the Club at any time past, and we earnestly request you to make every effort to attend the reunion. If you should be unable to come, we trust that you will send some message of greeting or reminiscence of your connection with the Club. Replies may be addressed to the Secretary, Dr. Charles J. Ogden, 628 West 114th Street, New York, N. Y.

Very sincerely yours,

for the Committee in charge

Dear Mr. Wood:

When I submit on the post cards the name of a person proposed for membership in the Oriental Club, I usually add a few words to identify him in a scholarly way. I know that Dr. Miles has been excavating in Iran, but am not sure just how to describe his work; perhaps you would be kind enough to put the very brief phrase needed on a card.

Sincerely yours,

Charles J. Ogden
